

IREB Ethical Principles

- We strive to create value for the Requirements Engineering community.
- We value sustained quality over commercial interests.
- We value IREB interests over the personal interests of IREB members.
- We value fair action over playing legal tricks.
- Our behavior and actions are guided by clear rules for conflicts of interest.
- We respect privacy and handle person-related information accordingly.
- We neither tolerate discrimination nor corruption.
- We respect intellectual property.
